

REPORTS DANGEROUS FLOOD CONDITIONS

GOVERNMENT BUREAU ADMITS MISSISSIPPI HAS NOT YET REACHED ITS HIGHEST POINT.

RIVERS RISING RAPIDLY

Warnings Issued in Districts Where It Is Possible For Streams to Do Serious Harm.

Places most seriously affected by Mississippi river flood: Hickman, Ky., Memphis, Tenn., New Madrid, Mo., Columbus, Ky. Total lives lost, 4. Total damage to date estimated at $1,000,000. Numbers driven from their homes, 8,000 to 9,000. Volume of water 6 to 10 feet above danger line between Cairo, Ill., and Arkansas City, Ark. Great of flood possibly will be reached in district affected between April 4 and April 8.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 2.—The weather bureau today announced it was probable the Mississippi river crest stage at Cairo would be little, if any, above fifty-four feet. The stage at Vicksburg, Miss., was 46.5 feet at seven a. m. today, a rise of .1 since yesterday morning.

Comes Up. St. Louis, Mo., April 2.—With the Mississippi river gauge here registering 23.8 feet, the weather bureau today, in a special forecast predicted a further rise of 1.2 feet. On the St. Louis side of the river 30 feet is considered the danger line.

Much Exaggerated. Milleden, Mo., April 2.—The flood situation in New Madrid county, especially in the towns of New Madrid and Portageville, is causing grave concern today. The cotton belt, railway has abandoned train service in New Madrid as every street is covered with water.

Flood Warnings. Cincinnati, Ohio, April 2.—Flood warnings for the Cincinnati district were issued today. By tonight the flood stage of 50 feet probably will be reached. A stage of 52 or 53 feet is expected by Thursday night.

Big Military Halt On Monday, April 2, the local Army of the Federal Order of Eagles will hold a dance at Annapolis hall. It is expected the affair will be especially fine. It is one of the pleasures in raising funds for the coming state convention held here in June next.

At Memphis. Memphis, Tenn., April 2.—With the water pouring over the levees and through half dozen gaps in private levees south of Cairo and washing over the embankments at several points it is officially stated that the water at Memphis will reach 45 feet. Thirty four feet was the prediction given out yesterday but today the prediction was raised.

Shows Big Rise. At seven o'clock this morning the water showed 32.4 a rise of three tenths since the report of last night. Government officials are still optimistic that they will hold the river within bounds. So far all the main levees are intact although several points are regarded as in danger.

At Hickman the levees which protect the river from the flow of the Roanoke Lake basin and several counties, the White river front at Mudick, Ark., and the levees near Mudick Missouri are giving the greatest concern.

Hickman Inundated. At Hickman the factory district where the levee broke Monday night is inundated to a depth of from four to twenty feet this morning and the entire district is almost entirely covered with water. New Madrid and Columbus and other cities in Kentucky are also flooded.

The gas and sewer pumping station in Memphis went out of commission last night. Early today the supply of gas was cut off and the city will be without that commodity until the water has subsided.

The flood in the northern section of the city is rapidly increasing. It is estimated that five hundred or more families have been rendered homeless and practically all industrial plants in that district have suspended operations.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

San Francisco, Calif., April 2.—About two hundred farmers, mostly from California and other states on the Pacific Coast, sailed from this port today on the steamship Tahiti for Australia, to make a thorough inspection of the available irrigation section of the available irrigation lands of Victoria. The excursionists are in charge of Mr. William C. Cunniff, a member of the irrigation commission of Victoria, who came to the United States a few months ago, to investigate the trade relations between Victoria, the United States and Canada and to induce competent agriculturists to settle upon the reclaimed and irrigated lands of Victoria. According to his statement there are in Victoria about 1,000,000 acres of land which can be reclaimed for agricultural purposes and of these 150,000 acres are already under irrigation. The climate conditions are almost the same as those of lower California and the land is said to be especially well suited for the raising of fruit and vegetables and for dairying.

MAN'S CONFESSIONS TO MURDER UNTRUE

Thought to Have Been Deranged by Death of Wife and Confessed to Knife Murder While Off.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Boston, Mass., April 2.—Police officials of Boston and Portsmouth, N. H., are of the opinion today that Seth Nichols' declaration that he committed the murder of Dr. Helen Knabe in Minneapolis, for $1,500 is an untruth. It has developed that Nichols has resided in this city six months and that his wife died here a few weeks ago, and that he is wanted by local police on the charge of burglary. Nichols' statement that he murdered Dr. Knabe is the product of a brain crazed by the death of his wife, said Nichols' sister-in-law, Mrs. Lyons of this city. "He was deranged by the death of his wife, and as a matter of fact deserted from the navy so that he might be with her."

On the Dixie. Panama City, Fla., April 2.—Seth Nichols, the sailor, who told the police of Portsmouth, N. H., Monday, that he killed Dr. Helen Knabe at Indianapolis, Oct. 23rd last, was on board the U. S. cruiser Dixie the day of the murder.

Even when the rains and wind drove the main body of the posse to the foot hills for food and shelter, sniffermen remained along the road to prevent the fugitives from getting away.

COPYRIGHT BY UNDERWOOD AND UNDERWOOD.

The city is only 250 cavalry and detachments of artillery and engineers. It is not strongly fortified.

Beirut has a population of about 110,000 and is the principal city and chief support of Syria. It is beautifully situated on a bay opening on the Mediterranean, with an imposing water front and a background of snow-capped mountains rising to the north.

In Beirut there is a large foreign population, most of whom are Christians, and there are thirty-eight churches of various Christian denominations in the town.

The city has large and well-supplied bazaars, collegiate institutions, and observatory, a fine aqueduct, an abundant water supply and several mission schools and convents.

Beirut is a great educational and religious center for the whole territory of eastern Asia Minor. It is the seat of a patriarch, a Latin archbishop, a Maronite archbishop and the United

The balloting began at six o'clock and long before ten o'clock it was certain that the "comrades" were through. Up to noon 32,608 votes had been cast, showing that the half holiday feature in afternoon produced many thousand more votes. Comparatively few women voted on the school questions.

LA FOLLETTE CARRIED THE WHOLE OF STATE

FIGURES SHOW THAT SENIOR SENATOR WILL HAVE BIG MAJORITY.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., April 2.—The returns of Wisconsin's first presidential primary election held yesterday while far from being complete, show that United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, has a big lead over President Taft on the republican ticket and that Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, is a sure winner over Champ Clark of Missouri.

The vote for president was merely advisory, the real contest being for delegates to the national convention of the two major political parties. Senator La Follette appears to have secured a solid delegation although J. L. Phillip, manager of the Taft campaign in the state, says that his latest report indicates a possibility of the president having secured the delegates in the Sixth district.

Everything aside from this seems to have gone La Follette way, including all delegates in almost every district but there seems to be some hope of Clark securing the Sixth district delegates, that section being the home of former Congressman Chas. H. Wessoe who conducted the Clark campaign throughout the state.

McGovern Pleased. Madison, April 3.—Gov. McGovern rejoiced today in the election results of yesterday and paid special tribute to the beneficent effects of the corrupt practices law as applied in Milwaukee, where he spent the day.

PUBLICITY TO BE OFFICIAL SLOGAN OF COMMISSIONERS

Newly Elected City Officials Will Have Nothing to Hide in Dark Corners.

"Publicity!" That is to be the watchword of the new administration, according to the statements of the men who were elected by the voters of Janesville yesterday. "Full and complete information of all the affairs of the city at all times," says Mayor-elect James A. Fathers. "The people are entitled to know what is going on in the city."

"I will say to the people of Janesville that there will be no dark corners in the new administration," said C. K. Mithras. "Every citizen is a stockholder in the municipality and is entitled to receive courteous and respectful answers regarding the conduct of the city's business."

"It is too early to do more than assure the taxpayers," said Roy M. Cummings. "That they are going to have the squarest of square deals. We realize that this is to be a business administration in the fullest sense of the word. This was the basic reason in the minds of the voters and upon that issue we were elected. We are going to live up to it and give to the city the best service of which we are capable."

Mr. Fathers was found at the city treasurer's office this morning receiving the hearty congratulations of his friends. "I am, of course, more than gratified at the large vote cast for me," he said modestly. "and it is my intention to visit, as soon as I can, several of the cities already operating under the commission form, and obtain at first hand such information regarding the details of government as in my judgment will be applicable here. I believe that the commission form of government is the only one which will be able to adopt exactly the same systems here as are in force in other towns, but I believe we can profit by their experiences in many ways."

At the first meeting of the commission we will organize the council and decide by lot which of the councilmen will serve the long and which the short term. We will, doubtless, at the same time, announce the arrangement of departments, and decide as to the manner in which the details of the municipal affairs will be handled. At this time it would be premature to make any more definite statements. Citizens may rest assured that the spirit of the law will be observed and full publicity given to every official act of the commission."

"To what do you attribute your election?" was asked. "Well, I believe the voters cast their ballots," was Mr. Fathers' reply, "with but one view in mind—that is, the good of Janesville. Those who have me their support did so because they had confidence in my judgment. I guess that was the only reason."

Mr. Mithras, councilman-elect, was found at his home on South Center avenue and was disposed to describe his success to the work of his friends. "I don't know that there was any other issue raised," he said, "than that urged by the Gazette, 'Fitness for the work as shown by the record.' I take it that the voters elected me because they believed we would deliver the goods. That, our previous experience would aid us in solving the problems before us, and that we could be trusted. That, at least, is the message of the polls as I understand it."

Roy M. Cummings, who will give up his office as city clerk to assume the responsibilities of councilman in the new commission, was surrounded by friends who offered their congratulations in terms which were undoubtedly sincere. "My election is an endorsement of my record in the city clerk's office," he said, "and a call for my best exertions in the new position. I believe in a splendid certificate from the voters, and I know that I, for one, will do my level best to so fill his office that no one who cast his ballot for me will ever regret it. I can't make any forecast of course, but want to say at this time that this is going to be a business administration. We will give Janesville a clean, economical and efficient administration. We won't turn things over in any radical way. Conservative business men will have nothing to fear, and folks who may be looking for sensationalism will be disappointed. That's all I can say."

WINTER JUST PASSED WAS HARD ON QUAIL

Game Warden William Mason estimates that nearly half were killed by cold and starvation.

According to Game Warden William Mason the past winter was exceptionally severe on quail and he estimates that fully one-half succumbed to starvation and extreme cold. The heavy snow which lay on the ground for practically the entire season deprived them of their food. A number of quail wintered in the woods near Hughman's bluff, finding protection inside the heavy grapevine arbors.

Prairie chickens are increasing and there are more in Rock county than there have been in many years. Particles are comparatively scarce and prices are decreasing so rapidly that if hunters do not show them consideration they will become extinct in a very short time.

Wild geese are beginning to come north and so are the wild ducks. Their number has been decreasing steadily in late years. Unfortunately the state of Illinois still permits spring shooting which is largely responsible for this state of affairs. It is now hoped to secure effective protection of game through federal legislation.

RE-COUNT MAY BE CALLED AT ORFORD

The Vote Between Howe and Stavin and Indication of Illegal Balloting May Result in New Election.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Orfordville, April 3.—It is possible that there may be a call issued for a new election at this village owing to the fact that there were two ballots more than recorded found in the box. In addition to this circumstance there was a very close race for the position of third trustee of the village between H. C. Stavin and H. Howe, which resulted in a tie which has not been decided. There was almost a full vote cast yesterday. The officials named are: President of village board, F. A. Cole; trustees, C. O. News, F. D. Corbett and H. C. Stavin or H. Howe; supervisor, G. Clementson; assessor, I. H. Sator; clerk, L. M. Larson; treasurer, H. K. Hendrickson; justice of the peace and police justice, Charles Taylor; constable, Wesley Jones.

The vote for presidential delegates was as follows: La Follette 45; Taft, 25; Roosevelt 3.

EVANSTON POLICE INQUIRE ABOUT STOLEN OVERCOAT.

One Made by Edward Arneson of This City Found in Possession of Bell Boys Arrested There. Chief of Police Fred G. Schaffner of Evanston, telegraphed Chief of Police Appleby early this morning informing him that two bell boys giving the names of Bert Munn and Paul Scott had been arrested at a hotel there and a quantity of stolen clothing found in their possession. One of the boys wore a dark grey striped overcoat with the name of its tailor Edward Arneson, Janesville, date November 9, and Number 2135, written inside the inside pocket. Chief of Police Appleby at once communicated the information to Mr. Arneson, but he was not able to remember to whom he sold the coat. The bell boys named are not known to the police here.

AT NINETY-TWO SHE STILL WRITES HYMNS

Mrs. Fanny Crosby, the blind hymn writer, has just celebrated her ninety-second birthday at her home in Bridgeport, Conn. She has written more than seven thousand hymns, among them "Bells in the Arms of Jesus," "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross" and "Jesus the Water of Life Will Give." Mrs. Crosby has been blind since she was six years old. She is still enjoying good health, and spends most of her time, when not dictating hymns, in knitting.

FOR SICK HEADACHE, SOUR STOMACH, LAZY LIVER OR SLUGGISH BOWELS

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food, and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

RIVER RISING STEADILY THIRTY INCHES OVER MARK.

Comes up Two Inches Over Night—Lake Koshkonong Ice Has Not Yet Moved. Despite the fact that practically all the water from melting snow in the lower valley of the Rock has drained away, and the absence of rain, the river continues to steadily rise, and the surface is now thirty and one half inches over the government mark. This is such an unusual height that the gauge scale does not show the figure and a hand rule has to be superimposed to read it. The river rose from 28½ at eight o'clock last night to 29 at ten, 29½ at four o'clock this morning, 30 at five, and 30½ at nine. The temperature of the river has been falling, indicating that the ice is melting rapidly in the lakes which drain into it. Reports from Lake Koshkonong state that the ice there is about two and one half feet thick and not broken up, but the river has cut a channel through it.

NEW SENATOR FROM ARIZONA TAKES SEAT

Senator M. A. Smith, United States Senator Marcus A. Smith, of Arizona, former delegate who has been elected to represent his state in the United States Senate, took his seat officially on April 1.

Count's Witty Reply. The Royal band was playing for the king, Louis XIV, the "Miserere of Lully." The king was on his knees and so was the whole court. His majesty kept the awkward attitude until the end of the hymn. After rising, the king turned to the Count de Grammont and asked how he found the music. "Very sweet to the ear, sire, but very hard on the knees."

Not the Only Favored One. Young Jamie's people were poor and not always solvent, wherefore the lad, while still very young, knew the meaning of debt. One day when Jamie had been sent to ask a patient tradesman for more supplies he was hurt and ashamed to see the man hesitate. "You needn't be afraid of sending the things because we owe you a little money," exclaimed the child, with indignation. "We owe plenty of people more than we owe you!"

Separation Sometimes Good. Being sometimes under heightened friendship. The great cause of the frequent quarrels between relations is their being so much together.

CASEBALL NOTES.

Since the season of 1902 no less than forty-nine men have managed clubs in the American and National Leagues. Some of these men have drifted from one club to another in the same circuit, and have occasionally transferred their operations to the other league. The clubs, the managers and the order of their succession are as follows:

National League—New York, John Graw; Chicago, Frank Seale; Frank Chance; Pittsburgh, Fred Clark; Philadelphia, Charley Zimmer; Hugh Duffy; Billy Murray; Charley Root; St. Louis, Patsy Donovan; Charley Nichols; Jimmy Burke; John McGraw; Roger Bresnahan; Cincinnati, Joe Kelly; Ned Hanlon; John Gault; Clark Griffith; Hank O'Day; Brooklyn, Ned Hanlon; Patsy Donovan; Harry Lumley; Bill Dahlen; Boston, Al Hucksburger; Fred Tenney; Joe Kelly; Frank Rowenman; Harry Smith; Fred Lake; Fred Tenney; John Kling. American League—Philadelphia, Connie Mack; Detroit, Ed Barrow; Bill Armour; George Stallings; Hugh Jennings; Cleveland, Bill Armour; Nap Lajoie; Jim McHugh; George Stenall; George Davis; Boston, Jimmy Collins; Chick Stahl; Bob Laguma; George Huff; Jim McHugh; Fred Lake; Patsy Donovan; Jake Stahl; Chicago, Clark Griffith; Jimmy Callahan; Florio Jones; Billy Sullivan; Hugh Duffy; Jimmy Callahan; New York, Clark Griffith; Norman Eberfeld; George Stallings; Ed Chase; Harry Wolverton; Washington, Tom Loftis; Jake Stahl; Joe Cantillon; Jim McAlleer; Clark Griffith; St. Louis, Jim McAlleer; Jack O'Connor; Rhody Wallace.

President Ward of the Boston Nationals will perhaps take his leaves to Bermuda for 1912 training.

According to reports from the Washington training camp Pitcher Tom Hughes' injured hand is as good as over.

Manager Hank O'Day, of the Cincinnati team, has decided to cut out Sunday exhibition games for the Reds while in the East this season.

Steinfeldt or Smith will play third base for the St. Louis Cardinals in case Mike Mowery fails to report. Mike is holding out for more coin.

Manager McInnis, of the Giants, says that there is no chance for any of his new men, even the pitchers, to make the first-string outfit on the team this year.

The girls of Los Angeles are willing to elect Manager Tom Perry to any office he desires, since he announced that ladies will be admitted free to the Los Angeles park, every day except Saturday and Sunday.

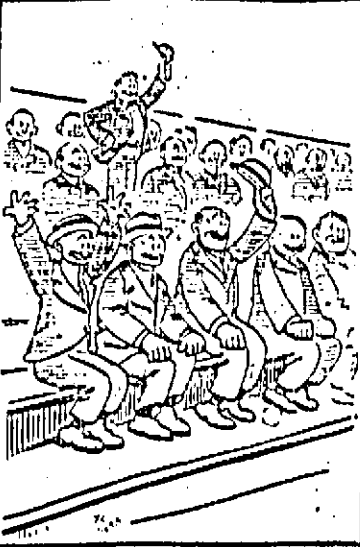

Humor has it that Hank Perry, now with the Detroit Tigers, will be sent back to the Providence club. Perry headed the International League in batting last year and was considered one of the finds of the season.

A new pitcher, "Lefty" Kellogg, has joined the Pittsburgh Pirates. Kellogg is six feet three inches tall and built in proportion, weighing now 208 pounds. He has been pitching in the Panama Canal Zone for about a year and a half.

During the recent damp spell the youngsters with the Cubs, "with nothing to do till tomorrow," rolled so many cigarettes, according to Manager Chance, that he was compelled to "call" them. The Peerless Leader allows the veterans to do as they please, but the infants have to behave.

Buffalo has made the White Sox an offer for "Lena" Blackburne, but if he goes out of the big league the chances are that he will land with Hugh Duffy's Milwaukee team. Blackburne cost the White Sox $11,000 two years ago, but has never been able to catch the step with the Comiskey crew.

At The Theatre

SOTHERN BELIEVES IN HARD WORK.

E. H. Sothern, who appears with Julia Marlowe in Shakespearean repertoire at the Myers Theatre, Wednesday evening April 3, in "The Taming of the Shrew," was lately asked by an interviewer if he was satisfied with his Macbeth. This brought forth from Mr. Sothern: "Satisfied? How could I be satisfied? he answered. 'Nothing I've ever done has completely satisfied. Show me the man who strives earnestly to do something big and good and is thoroughly satisfied with his accomplishment and I will show you a man who has some mental deficiency. No, my 'Macbeth' does not satisfy me, that is, it does not satisfy my own ideal. I might say the same of all my roles. But please don't misunderstand me. It is not because I do not feel that I have done it that I have not been well done."

"It is because of a feeling that it might have been better done. In every role I portray I have an ideal in my own mind. Often I almost reach it, but nearly always afterward there remains a feeling that I might have done better here and there. I always know just where I fall immediately after I've finished. It's like the man who thinks of the retort that would have crushed his opponent in an argument a minute after it's too late to make it. You've had that experience, haven't you? You often feel that if you had only thought of the retort at the right moment you would have been satisfied. But after all, the only way to get any satisfaction out of your work is to do your best all the time and know that you are doing it consistently. Self-satisfaction would destroy my attitude and be fatal to my work—as it would be to any other man's."

"Which means, I take it, that you don't believe in genius?" asked the interviewer. "I do not," declared Mr. Sothern emphatically. "Not on the stage. What passes for genius is really a great gift coupled with an enormous capacity for hard and ceaseless work. You've heard it said that Charles Keen was a genius. Read his life. It reads like a romance—and you will find that his great achievements were the result of indefatigable work. Of course, to achieve greatness in anything one must have a great gift; but that particular line of effort. But this gift would be practically useless without incessant and painstaking work. That is as true of painting or literature as it is of acting. Look at the plaiders who have forged ahead of their more gifted brothers in every endeavor. Work, my boy, work, and then more work. That is all the genius I know."

"In what particular are you most dissatisfied with your own work, Mr. Sothern?"

"I could scarcely define that off-hand," replied Mr. Sothern. "But I work incessantly to make my method simpler. You may have observed that Miss Marlowe is simplifying her method all the time, eliminating all unnecessary gesture and emphasis. Simply ought to be the aim of every actor. I think my father had it reduced to a fine science. He could express emotion with less effort than any actor I know. I study unceasingly to attain greater simplicity in my work."

Kilbane-Attell Pictures.

The pictures of the Kilbane-Attell contest which was decided recently at Los Angeles for the featherweight championship of the world have proven to be the best of the kind ever taken. It has also been a very fortunate thing for Kilbane to have the pictures so clear so as to enable spectators to determine which man was really entitled to the verdict, for after the contest Attell set up the claim that the worst he should have had was a draw, and even Ad. Wolcott, who was backing Attell, set up the same claim, but after watching the pictures there is only one conclusion, and that Kilbane won the battle all the way, and is rightly entitled to the featherweight championship of the world. In addition to the contest itself, there are numerous scenes about the training camps of both fighters which are very interesting.

It will be worth your time and money to see them at the Myers Theatre, Thursday, April 4, matinee and evening.

The storm that was passing north-eastward up the Ohio valley yesterday has now reached Nova Scotia. It has been attended by moderate rainfalls throughout the East, and along the entire Atlantic coast.

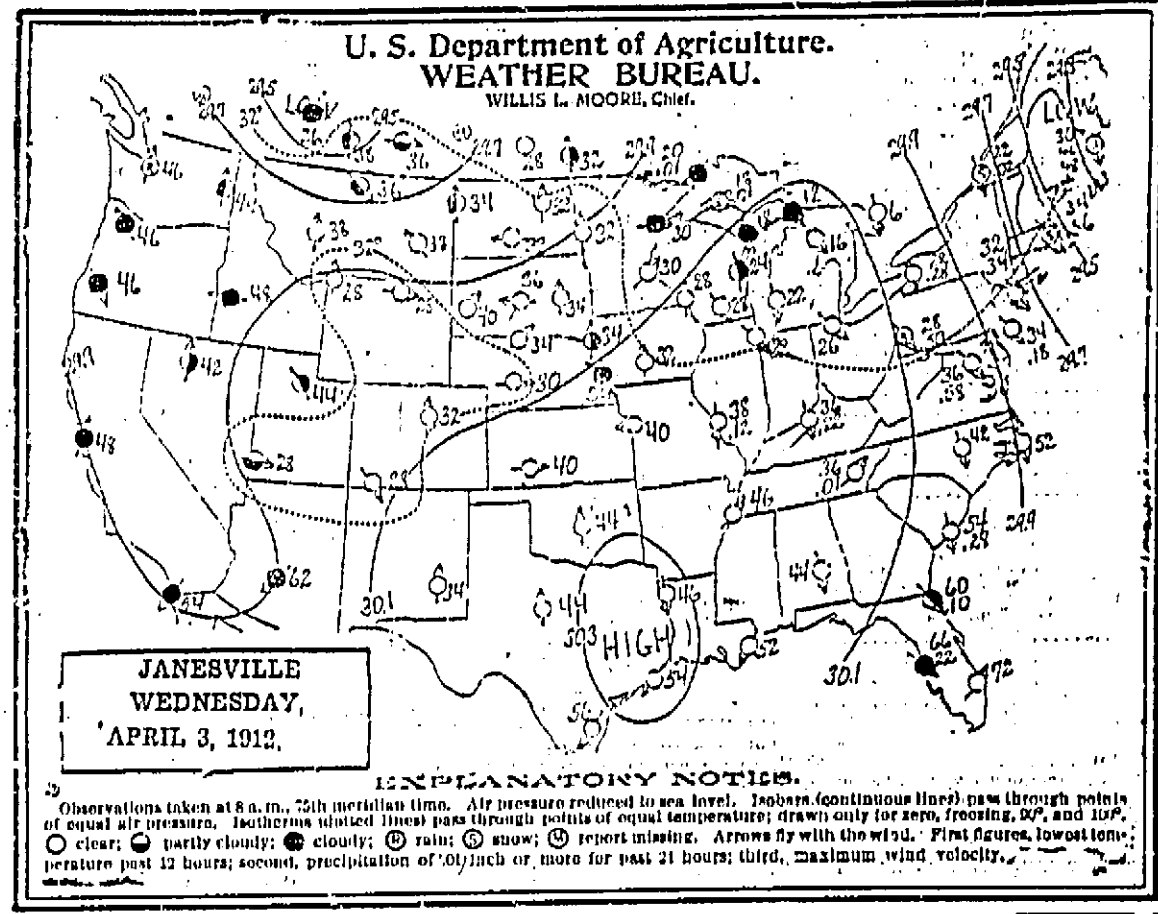

The atmospheric pressure is high in the south, and the weather is fair there and in the Southwest.

An extensive area of low atmospheric pressure occupies the Northwest and is attended by cloudiness in western Canada and along the Pacific coast. It is showing a tendency to extend southward into the southern plateau region.

For this vicinity the indications are that the weather will continue fair to night and Thursday. The temperature will rise slowly.

FATHERS NAMED MAYOR; MILTIMORE AND CUMMINGS CHOSEN AS COUNCILMEN

WAS GIVEN A MAJORITY OF 744 VOTES OVER CROHN—CARRIED EVERY WARD BUT FOURTH.

CLOSE RACE FOR HALL

Present City Clerk Wins Second Place by Narrow Margin of 40 Over William Hall—Miltimore Polls Big Vote in Every Ward.

James A. Fathers will be the Mayor of the City of Janesville under the commission form of government and his associates as councilmen will be Chas. K. Miltimore and Roy M. Cummings. This was the verdict of the voters at the municipal election. Mr. Fathers was elected by a majority of 744 votes over his opponent James L. Crohn, who received a total of 929 against Mr. Fathers' 1,673. Mr. Fathers carried every ward in the city with the exception of the fourth where Mr. Crohn received a majority of 33 votes. In the fifth ward the vote was rather close but Fathers was the favorite by 18.

Miltimore Runs Strong.

Chas. K. Miltimore registered the largest number of votes for the position of councilman with an endorsement of 1,524. He ran first in all of the wards in the city with the exception of the first, where Mr. McNamara led, and the third where William Hall was substantially ahead of H. L. McNamara, who was second in this ward.

Cummings Was Second.

Roy M. Cummings, the present city clerk, polled the second highest vote and was elected councilman with Mr. Miltimore. His vote was 1,251 and his margin over William Hall, who pressed him hard for the place, was but 48 votes. Cummings ran well in all the wards as the figure of the table shows. He was strongest in the fourth where he received an endorsement of 385.

CHAS. K. MILTIMORE

Hall a Close Third.

William Hall, who ran a close third, was given a flattering endorsement in his own ward, the third, where he polled 455 votes, which was 114 ahead of H. L. McNamara, his nearest competitor. Hall failed to show strength in the other wards, however, running a bad third in the first, second and fourth. His total vote was 1,203. McNamara's total vote was 1,090. He narrowly carried his own ward, the first, having five votes ahead of

ROY M. CUMMINGS

Miltimore, who registered 265 in that precinct. McNamara ran low in the second, fourth and fifth, but was a charter member of W. H. Sargent W. R. C.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN COUNTY BOARD NOTED IN RETURNS

Majority of Members Will Return to Seats, However, According to Returns—Successor for John A. Paul.

There will be several changes in the personnel of the county board following the election yesterday. Although the majority of the members were returned, among the changes noted it will be regretted by many of the board members that John A. Paul of Milton, chairman of the board the past year, declined to run on the town of Milton ticket this year but surrendered his place to W. P. Marquart. Mr. Paul has been a zealous worker in behalf of the county and his services will be greatly missed.

In the town of Porter the republican ticket with William Porter as chairman of the town board, won out over the democrats who were supporting D. A. McCarthy, present supervisor from that district. This was one of the closest races in any of the townships and the result comes as a surprise as Porter township has a history for being staunchly democratic.

Richard Ostrud of the town of La Prairie will represent that township in the county board this year. He succeeded in defeating W. T. Sherman for the place on the ticket at the caucus last Friday and was elected without opposition yesterday. Mr. Sherman is one of the older members of the board in point of service and has been active in the county work.

W. E. Sheemaker of the town of Janesville, is another member of the board who has seen long service who will not return. He declined to accept the nomination at the caucus and P. F. McGee was elected without opposition yesterday.

There was something of a fight in the town of Harmony for the chairmanship between F. M. Ranch, present incumbent and J. C. Wilson who ran on the independent ticket. Mr. Ranch was re-elected, however by a ratio of three to two votes. Mr. Ranch is a strong member of the board who has worked faithfully for the interests of the county.

In the town of Rock, Fred Rehfeld was again elected chairman on the democratic ticket over Ray Humphrey on the republican, by a 105 to 44 vote. The democrats carried through the list of township officers.

Messrs. Gray, Smith and Paulson were re-elected in Evansville.

In Edgerton Henry Ebbott was elected to succeed Rubin. Gettle and Hopkins were re-elected. Ed Crall was again elected from the town of Center.

The only change in the city of Janesville will be from the second ward which will be represented by M. P. Richardson in place of J. P. Hutchinson. The Beloit men were returned to the board as before.

Results of the township elections are given in part below:

Town of Rock: F. Rehfeld, chairman; Chas. Kilmer and Michael Finley side supervisors; Edw. Tracy, clerk; Don Connell, treasurer; Ed. Podewell, assessor.

Town of Fulton: John Sherman, chairman; Henry Arthur and John Kelly, side supervisors; O. P. Murphy, clerk; Wm. White, treasurer; and S. B. Sherman, assessor.

Town of Harmony: P. M. Ranch, chairman; H. G. Sykes and H. H. Smith, side supervisors; L. C. Blum, clerk; George Clark, treasurer; and H. Schultz, assessor.

FATHERS AS MAYOR; NAME COMMISSIONERS

given a good vote in the third ward where he ran second to William Hall.

Keen Interest Shown.

The chief interest in the city election rested in the vote for mayor and councilmen, and one of the largest votes in the city was polled. The total vote for mayor was 2,602, or about a hundred votes more than at the primary, March 19th. The third and fourth wards had the largest vote, the third having 660 for mayor and the fourth the same figure. Not until the returns from every ward were in was it certain who would be the councilmen, although McMinnore ran steadily ahead as the figures were received. Conflicting reports were current as to whether Cummings or Hall was named, but at ten o'clock the figures were verified and Cummings was seen to be elected. Janesville is now ready to launch the commission government. The men are named who will be at the helm: a mayor for six years, and two councilmen, one for four years and the other for two, the terms to be decided between the two elected by lot.

Other Figures in City.

Other figures in the city indicate that La Follette was given the endorsement of Janesville over Taft by the narrow margin of 49 votes. Indications are that the county also went for La Follette. In Evansville the vote stood 147 for La Follette and 48 for Taft.

Clark was given a majority of 108 over Wilson in this city on the democratic presidential primary ticket. Clark carried every ward in the city with the exception of the second.

For municipal judge of the city of Beloit, Clark was easily the majority in Janesville, receiving a majority over Cunningham of nearly 500. There was no contest in the election of other city officers. The vote is given below in the tables.

James Fathers was given a handsome endorsement by his fellow citizens. He carried every ward but the fourth, which Mr. Cronin's friends rallied to his support in a loyal manner and gave him 347 votes to Fathers' 313. Mr. Fathers' total vote was 1,673, Mr. Cronin's 929, a majority of 744. The total vote cast for mayor was 2,602, Cronin receiving 927.

McMinnore, who was elected councilman, ran second to Fathers. His total vote in the city is indicative of the strength he had. In the first ward he divided honors with McMinnore. In the second he and Cummings divided the top votes. He was well up in the race in the third, running just behind Hall, with McMinnore third on the ticket. In the fourth he ran way ahead of everyone, with Cummings second, and in the fifth he had things his own way, with Cummings trailing. His vote was 1,526.

Cummings, the second commissioner, was at the foot of the list in the first ward, stepped up in the second, his home ward being second highest. In the third he was again last, but in the fourth he showed decided strength and with McMinnore in the lead by a safe margin, while the fifth settled his case and he took second place on the ticket, elected by a total vote of 1,251.

Mr. Hall, the third man in the race, ran third in the first ward, third in the second, led the third, his home ward, by a handsome plurality, dropped to third place in the fourth, and last in the fifth. His total vote was 1,033.

McNamara, who ran fourth, carried the first ward, was last in the second, second in the third, last in the fourth, and third in the fifth. His total vote was 1,096.

JANESVILLE VOTES FOR PURCHASE OF THE WATER PLANT

Majority of 202 Votes: In Favor of Municipal Ownership of Local Water Works.

Every ward in the city declared in favor of the purchase of the plant of the Janesville Water Company at election yesterday. The majority in favor of the purchase totaled 202 votes, as 1,237 was the vote for and 1,035 was the vote against.

This is a new proposition which will keep the new commissioners busy aside from the deluge of work which will accompany the complete reorganization of the city in conformity with the commission plan of city government. The decision on this question which was the only referendum matter submitted to the voters yesterday, came as something of a surprise to a number of citizens. There had been little agitation either way and the verdict at the polls may be taken as an unbiased expression of the people's will.

The vote in detail as shown by the following table indicates that in the first ward alone was there any pronounced opposition to the proposal. The "for" vote here by a margin of 114 to 91. In the other wards the majorities were 72 in both the second and the fourth, 42 in the fifth and 15 in the third.

Nothing New Today
ON LOCAL MARKETS

About The Same Line of Goods Offered at Same Prices.—Potatoes High in Chicago.

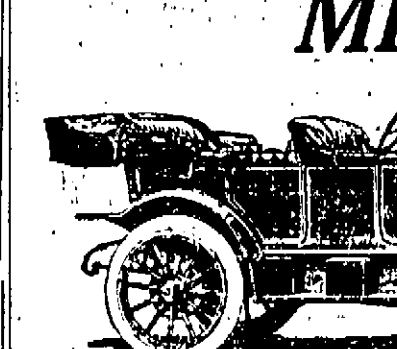

Nothing new was seen in the local markets this morning either in prices or products, everything remaining at about the same place. People are still buying the imported vegetables as there are very few gardens yet producing much in that line and Florida products will probably be the stay for some time yet. Eggs are plentiful at twenty cents mostly. Potatoes are selling at $1.30 a bushel in carload lots in Chicago and practically none are being shipped in by local dealers. Most of the stock for sale here is brought in by the farmers and is sold at a dollar twenty. Today's prices are as follows:

Vegetables.
Asparagus—15c bunch.
Carrots—3c lb.
Fresh Carrots—5c bunch.
Parsnips—5c.
Potatoes—$1.20@1.40 bushel.

The unwillingness to do honor to a prophet in his own country is illustrated by the following anecdote. It was remarked to a Scotchman that a certain individual was very clever. "I'm clever. Why, I need no school w' him," was the response.

Right to Keep Pigs in London.

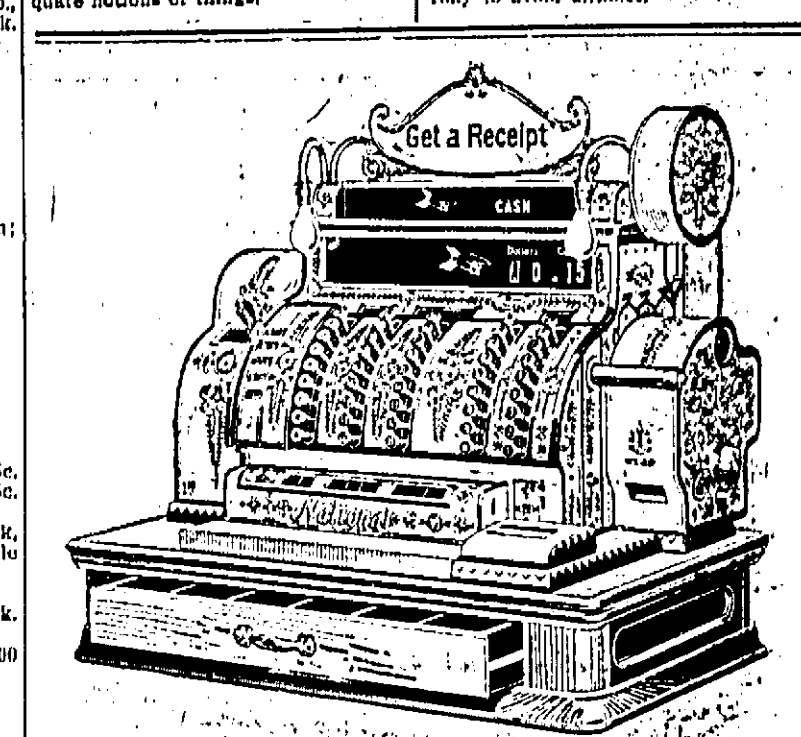

The freedom of the city of London carries with it, nominally, at any rate, the right to keep pigs in the parish of St. James, Piccadilly. But even were any one disposed to avail himself of this liberty, and if the sanitary authorities failed to object, land in that part of London is somewhat too costly for profitable pig farming.

Form and Color First.

As compared with form and color, words, in the mind's infancy are but an imperfect means of conveying adequate notions of things.

To Remove Ferment Gums from Fruit Jars

If fruit has once spoiled in a jar, the same thing will happen again unless the jar has been thoroughly cleaned and sterilized. It is not enough to merely wash the jars; they should be boiled. To make sure that they are in good condition, put them in a pan of cold water in which has been dissolved a tablespoon of Gold B. Bleaching powder; let come to a boil. The tops, also, should be immersed in boiling water, and old rubbers should need to be used. After filling can, shake and screw top on carefully to avoid airholes.

Giving Your Customers Printed Receipts Enforces Correct Records.

This receipt is printed and a record made by the register at the same operation. The amount recorded on the total adding wheels inside the register is the same as the amount printed on the receipt which is given to the customer.

The giving of this printed receipt to every customer enforces correct records on the register.

It is the most positive way of assuring yourself that no losses occur in handling your money, and that you get a correct record of every transaction.

Your Receipt for Correct Records

These are the adding wheels which show the total of the amounts printed on the receipts issued. They act as your receipt for a correct, unchangeable record. A secret record like this gives you a control on all your business.

Employees' Receipt

The sales-strip is the employee's receipt. The amount printed on it is the same as the amount printed on the customers' receipt and added on the adding wheels.

It enables the employee to prove his efficiency and value to his employer.

Proprietor's, Employees' and Customers' Receipt

These figures at the top of the register show everybody in the store the amount recorded. The amount is the same as that shown on the receipt, adding wheels and sales-strip.

This acts as a receipt for correct records to proprietors, employees and customers.

It will pay you to investigate.

WOMAN'S PAGE

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

From Ungainliness To Grace.

A woman long to be beautiful, but few fully realize what an aid to beauty is grace.

In fact, among those essentials that go to make up charm, few women estimate gracefulness at its true value. Most women want a good figure; and by this, they mean a fashionable figure, whether it happens to be of the hour-glass or hipless type. They like to have a pretty neck and shoulders, in order to look well in evening dress. And now that short sleeves are the vogue, women want a well shaped forearm. And this about expresses their idea of grace. They do not want to be too fat, nor yet too thin; but this also is because either state spoils the figure. Of the wondrous grace, of the exquisite curves, of the feeling of lightness and buoyancy, of Guido Reni's figures in "Aurora," or of the figures of maidens on Greek friezes and urns, many women today seem utterly oblivious. Or if they notice them at all, it is never with an idea that such grace might be theirs.

But many a woman could change her waddle into a light, buoyant step that would be a delight to see, many another could transform her rotund curves into lines of fascination. The body in itself is beautiful. And it is built on lines of beauty. The trouble is we spoil it. We droop our heads forward and spoil the line at the back of the neck. We sit and stand improperly, and our abdomen becomes prominent. We do a dozen and one little things of this sort, and after awhile every line goes away. Our body, in its silhouette, is like sweet bells jangled out of tune. Where might be grace are only lines and angles that jar.

But we can prevent this condition coming, or we can remedy it if it has come. We need to tune up our vitality for one thing, so that we feel like standing erect and walking buoyantly. And this comes as much from cheery spirits as from oxygen in the blood. Then we want to exercise in some form to limber up our muscles and wear off the flesh where it shouldn't be, and put it on where it should be.

Exercise is an old story, and the trouble with most women is that they will have none of it. The housewife says she gets exercise enough. The business woman says she is too tired. The society woman exclaims she hasn't the time. But look again at those Greek maidens almost flying along that frieze, and maybe they'll convince you that such grace and buoyancy are worth having.

Then again, there is exercise and exercise. The housekeeper does get plenty of it, if she would take it with head up and shoulders back, and body in a right position. But she doesn't. She makes these very mistakes of carriage about her housework that give round shoulders and prominent abdomen and lack of spring in the walk.

There are plenty of exercises that are lots of fun. Swimming is one of the best for the cultivation of grace. It not only uses many muscles, but it uses many that are otherwise little used. It is a corrective of round shoulders, and it compels deep breathing. With the summer coming on, many women could take up swimming if they would. Begin slowly, but persevere. At the end of the season, you'll find yourself a different looking individual.

Horseback riding is another exercise good for the muscles. It strengthens them, tones them up, gives a feeling of lightness and buoyancy, and a command of the body, that shows in every movement.

Tennis is another good cultivator of grace. The swift running, the quick movements of the arms above the head, on this side or that, all tend to produce correct lines.

All these things free the body of the stiffness, the wrong positions into which we have let it slip. It comes back to normal, and then it is beautiful.

No with the season at hand when many outdoor exercises that are really pleasurable can be enjoyed, let the woman who wishes to change unpleasant lines into fascinating ones, a girl that is painful to one that it is a delight, go in for some one or several of these things and persistently practice them.

MRS. FRANK DE GARMO

LEADS IN WORK FOR HOME BETTERMENT.

St. Louis, Mo.—It was Frank De Garmo last that Mrs. Frank De Garmo suggested to a small circle of friends the need of a closer affiliation between mothers in the interest of home development. This little beginning has developed until at the recent National Convention of Mothers here, the Missouri woman made application for membership and presented a list of 1,000 members, to their State body. Mrs. De Garmo, also is working with the embryonic Missouri branch of the National Congress of Mothers is now for the establishment of all public schools as neighborhood centers, where entire families may meet, even where for amusement and educational purposes. It is Mrs. De Garmo's idea ultimately shown in the schools at night for the younger children.

At branch meetings the mothers hear short talks on the mental, moral and physical care of the children, are told when to meet their inquisitive questions in sex problems and how to answer them. After these talks a general discussion follows. During the talks the women sew and mend for charity.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Marketing Troubles of Both Dealer and Customer—Doughnuts That Keep.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

Some housekeepers go to market, pay for what they buy and carry it home in a string bag or basket. Such women often feel hard toward the market man who treats them no better in regard to prices than those who require the services of an order clerk and delivery man, run charge accounts and now and then fail to pay their bills.

Too often the humble cash customer who buys hamburger steak and dried peaches is forced to help make up the deficit of the grade dealer who con-sciently orders mushrooms, double crown and sweet breads with slight idea of how she will pay for them. The humble cash customer grumbles some, talks it over with her friends and then forgets it for a while.

Housewives who give orders for, yet never see their vegetables until served on the table, do not know whether the measure is well rounded up when they buy potatoes, beets, turnips, etc., neither do they know whether the pointer of the scale started at zero when their meat or other meat was weighed.

The market man doubtless respects the customer who is looking for a square deal but is not to be blamed if he goes out of his way to get the best of the woman who picks over and handles the food on the counters, finds fault with everything and haggles over prices.

The following recipe for doughnuts is recommended to me for making cakes that will keep moist. This is probably because potato is added for that always makes a moist bread. First two large or three rather small potatoes and much very fine and smooth. The best way is to press through a ricer and then beat with a fork. Add three-quarters cup of sugar, one well beaten egg, seven tablespoons of milk, one and one-half tablespoons of melted butter, a salt spoon of salt, four level teaspoons of baking powder sifted with two cups of flour as needed to make a soft dough as can be handled. Play with either a few grains of nutmeg or with one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Roll out, cut in rings and fry.

A small angel cake is made from one-half cup of pastry flour measured after sifting and then sifted four times with one-half level teaspoon of cream-tartar. Beat the whites of five large eggs until stiff and dry then scatter in three-quarters cup of powdered sugar and beat three minutes. Add one-half teaspoon of vanilla flavoring and beat in the flour quickly sifting the beating as you use the sifter so the cake will be light. Pour into a small ungreased tube pan and bake about forty minutes in a moderate oven. Invert the pan but do not hurry the heat out; let it slowly drop from the pan.

Adding chopped nuts to various kinds of bread is not a new idea but here is a quick roll that is a little different. Sift two cups of pastry flour with four level teaspoons of baking powder and a salt spoon of salt. Rub in three level tablespoons of butter, add one-quarter cup of sugar and one cup of chopped walnut meats. Use about three-quarters cup of milk or more if needed to make a dough as soft as can be handled. Put out on a floured board about three-quarters of an inch thick and cut in small rounds. Set in a buttered pan, brush over with milk and bake in a hot oven.

INVALID COOKERY IN PAPER BAGS.

Chop up half a raw chicken, wash a tablespoonful of rice, and mix with the chicken. Add a teaspoonful of pearl barley and add with a pint of cold water. Put all into a small buttered bag and cook for an hour in a slow oven. Rice is not always tender in a specified time; the older rice is, the longer it takes to cook.

Chicken Quenelles.—Take the breast of a fowl, add a pint of white sauce and a tablespoonful of butter. Pound the meat until fine, pass through a sieve, mix with an egg. Place in a basin, add a quarter of a pint of cream and stir well. Form small balls in the tablespoon, place in a well-buttered bag, lay carefully on a broiler and cook six minutes.

Mixed Chicken.—Finely mince the breast of a chicken, add a tablespoonful of cream, the yolk of an egg and a little salt. Lay in a small bag well greased. Cook for five minutes and serve in the bag. The chicken should be accompanied with toast.

Filleted Poultry.—Mince a carrot, turnip and onion, add a little chopped ham, a pinch of sugar and salt, place in the bottom of a well buttered bag. Slice the breast of a fowl, lay the slices on the prepared vegetables, sprinkle with melted butter, seal and cook in a slow oven six minutes. The meat and vegetables are all previously cooked.

Beef Tea.—Put a pound of thick round steak in a buttered bag and cook in a hot oven for fifteen minutes. Remove and take out the meat, cut in small pieces and squeeze through a press. Season the juice and serve hot.

Sweetbreads cut and served in a white sauce, heated and served in a small paper bag is an attractive dish which will appeal to a delicate appetite.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THAT it is not only what one has to wear, but how it is worn, not only what furniture there is in the house, but how the house is kept, that makes a person or a house look attractive or unattractive, is a truism. And yet how often we seem to forget this fact.

We had been calling at a lovely new home the other day. The happy bride had proudly shown us all over it. She is decidedly well to do, and the furniture was beautiful. Dull, rich mahogany in the fine old lines, marvelously grained Crenselan walnut, brass beds of exquisite dull finish and choicest of design, fragile gold and white china, heavy silver in the severe antique pattern, beautiful pictures and wonderful oriental rugs—indeed, everything that the heart of man, or rather of women, could desire, seemed to be in that house.

As we walked towards home my companion sighed enviously, "Wasn't it lovely? Oh, it just makes me sick to go into my house after that."

A vision of her home came before my eyes. The furnishings are good, though not expensive. The house is pleasant and has fine possibilities, and yet it is a distinctly unattractive home—far more unattractive than it has any reason for being. For the mistress of the house ignores the truism that it is not only what is in the home, but how it is kept that makes it pleasing or not. Take her bed-chamber, for instance. With its pretty white beds, its well built oak dresser, its dainty crocheted hangings and comfortable wicker chairs, it would be a very pleasant room if it were kept perfectly clean and in good order. But when I last saw it, the covers on the wicker chairs were soiled, the beds were carelessly made and one of them was marked by a long scratch which might have been easily remedied by a bit of enamel. Naturally the effect was not pleasing. She evidently attributes the unattractive aspect to the lack of fine furniture. But if she had the finest furniture, the most expensive mahogany or Crenselan walnut, and kept the room so carelessly, and was so neglectful of details as she now is, I maintain that the effect would still be far from pleasing.

A certain young married woman envies her girl friends their pretty clothes and sometimes feels aggrieved, because she cannot have two suits a year and all the other dainty costumes and accessories that they buy for themselves. Apparently she is very ambitious to look well. And yet she often goes about the house without a collar or belt, and with a gown which has been simply thrown on. The dress clothes worn in this way would be unattractive. The cheapest machine made housegown, if it is of a becoming make and color, and carefully and neatly put on, would look better.

We may not all have beautiful furnishings or expensive clothes. But we may all wear our clothes and keep our homes in a way that shall give us their full value in attractiveness.

Mahogany, dirty, scratched and in disorder, is not so attractive as oak kept neat and orderly and unmarred.

A silk gown carelessly put on, and worn without belt or collar, is far less effective than aingham dress in proper condition.

The woman who not only acknowledges these truisms, but lives them, is practically sure of an attractive person and a pleasing home.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

TROUBLE FROM HIGHLY COOKED FATS.

"Trouble from the combination of fats with other foods," says Dr. R. S. Ingersoll, "may be greatly increased by raising the temperature of the combination to a great height, as is done in frying foods. This process has the effect not only of coating over the mass, but of causing the oil to permeate and cover every particle of the food, so that it is as effectually protected against digestion in the mouth and stomach as if it had a rubber coat." This objection to mixing fats with other foods has been urged in these hints. That butyric acid developed by high temperature in fats is very injurious, also argues against the use of fats for invalids and those of weak digestion especially. Butter is always prescribed in the diet of the invalid and even cream, which is the best form of fat.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

NONE BUT BRASS BUTTONS LEGAL.

By A. W. MACY.

A curious law was enacted by the English parliament during the reign of William III., making it illegal for a tailor to manufacture or for an Englishman to wear clothes with any other kind of buttons than brass. This law was enacted at the behest and for the benefit of the brass button manufacturers of Birmingham. It was re-enacted during the reign of Queen Anne, and again during that of George I. It provided that whoever should make or sell garments with any but brass buttons should pay a fine of forty shillings for every dozen buttons manufactured or worn that were not made of brass. At a comparatively recent date a test case was brought into court and a man tried for violating the law. Strange to say it was upheld, notwithstanding that the judges, jurymen and attorneys were all wearing buttons not made of brass.

TONA VITA BUILDS UP RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

Physicians Have Great Success With Tonic in This Country.

When people of wealth become debilitated and run down in health they go to high priced sanitariums and health resorts to be built up again. But what about the thousands of debilitated nervous men and women with no vitality or ambition who neither have the time nor money to spare for such luxuries as sanitariums? If you are in this miserable condition read with care the following statement by M. F. Mann, living at 53 Good Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have had indigestion and been all run down for ten years. I couldn't eat anything at times and was always constipated. My nerves were out of order and I had bad headaches. I believe I had kidney trouble, too, as I had dull pains in my back much of the time. I was easily excited and often when I couldn't eat and had a nervous attack I would suffer severe dizzy spells.

"I heard so much about the new tonic, 'Tona Vita' that I decided to give it a trial and I feel like a different man. I am strong in every way. I sleep well, can eat anything and my nerves are as steady as can be. I have gained four pounds in the last ten days. I believe 'Tona Vita' is the best medicine on earth."

"Tona Vita was introduced in this country by a number of physicians scarcely a year ago. The tonic has proved the biggest success of any medicine ever before sold to the public.

If you are debilitated and run down don't allow this miserable condition to last a day longer. Let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your health. If it fails your money will be returned by our agent in your city. Smith Drug Co., is the agent for Tona Vita in Janesville. The Approved Formula Company, Dayton, Ohio.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all ailments come from inactive bowels and liver. Olive Tablets, the substitute for enemas, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We humbly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called ROXALL ORDERLIES. These are prompt, soothing, and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless, and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long in the treatment for their usefulness, form a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not grip, purge, nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons, and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three size packages, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Roxall Store, The Smith Drug Co., 14 West Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

CONFIRMED PROOF

Residents of Janesville Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs—from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Janesville, who so testified years ago, now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Janesville kidney sufferers.

Mrs. Joseph Gower, 302 Eastern Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "The benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills has been permanent. I willingly confirm my former endorsement of this remedy. I was afflicted with kidney complaint for several weeks and was feeling miserable in every way when a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I got a supply at the People's Drug Co. and the contents of three boxes sufficed to rid me of my trouble. I never fail to advise a trial of Doan's Kidney Pills when I hear anyone complaining of weak kidneys."

Heart to Heart Talks.
By EDWIN A. NYE.

TWO PICTURES.

In a New York gallery recently there hung two pictures by the famous Spanish painter Sorolla y Bastida. One was a picture of sunshine. A Valencian sea and shore are flooded with the midday splendor of June. The sunburst falls in its brilliancy on the bronzed faces of fishermen arrayed in their gorgeously colored plaid skirts. The luminous brightness is reflected from the shiny coats of oxen and touches with gliding the white foamed waves as they break ashore. It transforms the sails of the fishermen's boats into cloth of gold. The waves beneath are illumined. The golden air holds up a purely azure sky.

You see at a glance.

It is a picture of sunshine and of peace and joy. But the companion picture is different. Beneath it is written:

"A Sad Inheritance."

There is no sunshine in this picture. Its prevailing color is gray. It is the same sea and strand, but they stretch out to a forbidding horizon. Grewsome shadows lurk in the depths of the dark waters, and over all the scene looms a threatening sky.

That is the background.

In the foreground are the nude figures of a dozen afflicted boys come down to take the sea air—boys who have inherited the curse of a sinful parentage. Some of the poor fellows are hideously deformed; some are crippled with pitifully enlarged joints. A black robed priest is helping a diseased youth who is on crutches. The boys are inmates of a refuge home for waifs—innocent sufferers, the sons of whose parents have brought their pain and early doom.

An awful picture!

You look, and then you look away.

There is no need to say to you, "Look upon this picture and then upon that." The teaching is plain.

Where righteousness and purity abide there is the earth filled with the sunshine of peace and happiness. Where sin and unfaith and the sowing of wild oats find a place there the bright colors turn to dim, the clouds lower, and the horizon is dark and ominous.

This is the way the old book puts it in plain, homely terms:

"The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge."

Sorolla's picture of "A Sad Inheritance" shows the awful harvest of heredity. Somewhere back in the line of parentage somebody has eaten sour grapes.

Proof of Elephant's Sagacity.

Elephants are always quoted as being the most sagacious of animals. A story comes from Bombay, India, of one who saved the life of an artilleryman recently. The man was seated on the tumbrel of one of the guns, and fell off almost under the hind wheel. The elephant was just behind the gun and saw the danger the man was in. He lifted the wheel with his trunk, and kept it held up until the carriage had passed quite clear of the man. The act was witnessed by an officer of the artillery.

THE U.S. Government Takes No Chances on the Kind Of Security It Demands For Its Dollars

Can You Afford to Take Chances With Your Dollars?

THE U. S. GOVERNMENT accepts our City and Town and County Bonds as security for the deposits of its Postal Savings Banks.

You have $500 or more that you would like to be receiving an income on—but in deciding where to invest your money, you demand—

1. Safety beyond all question.
2. Highest possible rate of interest.
3. A fixed value—so that you will not be troubled with any falling in market price of your investment.

Safety—The U. S. Government ranks our City and Town Bonds with its own Bonds (Government Bonds). You know what absolute safety that means.

Interest—Our City and Town and County Bonds draw 4 1/2% to 5 1/2%—payable each six months. This is the highest rate of interest we know of in connection with absolute safety.

Value—When the time arrives for the city or town to pay back the money borrowed from you—and for which the city or town gave you its Bond—you will receive every dollar you loaned. The Bonds of Cities and Towns and Counties increase in value steadily because they are widely known, and there is a constant and competing demand for them as investments, for individuals, Banks and Estates.

A Municipal Bond is as sure as taxes for a specific tax is levied against all the public and all the private property of the community, and this tax is made large enough to pay the interest on the bonds each six months, and also to set aside enough to pay the principal when it is due.

Taxes Must Be Paid—So a Municipal Bond Is Sure of Being Paid

These are the reasons why the U. S. Government has decided that our Municipal Bonds are an absolutely safe security for the investment of money. You can profit by the Government's Searching Investigation and its decision. We shall be glad to give particulars by letter or in a personal interview.

NORWEGIAN ATTACKS COLONEL'S VERACITY

Editor of "America" Published at Madison Says Colonel is in Line as Ananias Club President.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., April 3.—Theodore Roosevelt's veracity is directly challenged in an interview today with Prof. Augustus B. Anderson, editor of the city, editor of the Norwegian national weekly, "America," who recently quoted Roosevelt's alleged views on German immigrants. According to Prof. Anderson, the Colonel is in line for the presidency of his own Ananias club.

In Die Woche, a prominent weekly periodical published at Berlin, was published on February 17, 1912, an article entitled "Wahrer Amerikanismus" (True Americanism) with Roosevelt's name under the title. It is the leading article in the issue. The president is reported therein as saying that Germans in America should renounce their old world language, customs and habits of thought. The article was reprinted in a German paper published in St. Louis, and eventually in "America." Prof. Anderson, who is an author and translator of note, made a free translation of his paper, and recently was quoted in the press in condemnation of the sentiments attributed to Roosevelt.

While Col. Roosevelt was in Chicago on March 28, he is reported to have given an interview to the Abendpost of that city branding the article in Die Woche as a pure fake and repudiating its sentiments. This interview was reprinted in the Chicago Tribune of March 29. In it the Colonel is quoted as saying:

"I don't know anything about the article on real Americanism which you mention; I never heard about it before. I never have written a line for Die Woche. During the last three years I have been assistant editor of the Outlook and I have not contributed a line to any other publication. Isn't it preposterous! The article is a pure, unadulterated fake! Everybody who knows my books knows what I think about the Germans in America. It is ridiculous to say that I advise Germans not to cultivate their language. I dare say that few Americans are as profound admirers of German language and poetry as I. I have read and re-read German poetry from Nibelungenlied down to Goethe, Schiller, Heine, Koerner, and the Epigones. I myself write and read German and have a strain of German blood in my veins. I am indeed glad that you have pointed this fake out to me. I will investigate its source."

Prof. Anderson, after following up the German article, made this statement today:

"The article on 'True Americanism' in Die Woche for February 17, is the leading article in that national periodical, which occupies a larger place in Germany than does the Outlook in this country. Mr. Roosevelt having denied knowing anything about the article or that he entertained sentiments expressed therein, I became very much puzzled. I could not conceive, on the one hand, that the article in such a publication could be a forgery, nor could I understand the ex-president's emphatic statement that he knew nothing whatever about it and his declaration that it was an unadulterated fake. The publisher of Die Woche would certainly not dare to perpetrate such a forgery. It didn't get it direct from Roosevelt, could he and such an article anywhere else from Roosevelt's pen?"

"It appears that for the April, 1894, issue of The Forum Theodore Roosevelt wrote an article on 'True Americanism.' This was reprinted in a volume published for Roosevelt by G. P. Putnam & Sons, New York, in 1897, and this article is word for word identical with the one translated and published in Die Woche, which has given it an excellent and faithful translation. Perhaps one ought to criticize the editor of Die Woche for not stating where he had found this Roosevelt production and so giving the impression that he had secured it direct from the author. But by denying that he knows anything about the article and by totally repudiating the sentiments contained therein, the distinguished ex-president easily wins for himself a place at the head of his celebrated Ananias club."

SOME NEW SLANTS ON ADVERTISING

MONEY IN ONE'S POCKET TO HAVE FATHER TIME AS A BUSINESS PARTNER.

"Ad Nineteen Years Old Brings Back Her Lost Rings."

This caption is clipped, not from the imagination, but from a dispatch published broadcast by a safe-and-sound press.

Cast your bread upon the waters, and, after many years, it will return. BUTTERED ON BOTH SIDES. In no case is this more true than in that of advertising. Immediate results, too, of course.

A Louisville woman loses her jewels at the Chicago World's Fair. Nearly a score of years later a San Francisco woman finds a stray bit of the "Lost and Found" column of an old newspaper and by chance hits upon an advertisement for the return of those very gems. The San Francisco woman happens to be the person who picked up the lost jewels. Never had she been able to learn to whom they belonged. But now, after all these years and through the instrumentality of this ancient, billowed "Lost" advertisement, the rings are returned to their rightful owner.

No doubt, years ago, the loser said to herself, "Advertising doesn't pay. IT DIDN'T BRING BACK MY JEWELS."

Many another advertiser has said the same thing, and with no more reason—has said it without giving advertising a FAIR CHANCE TO MAKE GOOD.

Of the story of the lost rings and their return one perhaps may say—"Merely a coincidence."

True, but a COINCIDENCE WITH A MORAL.

Judicious Advertising at Compound Interest.

Advertising does not have to rely upon the exceptional for its fulfillment. The exceptional happens when advertising is NOT successful.

This wonderful business force has been likened to the dripping of water that wears away the stone. Sometimes, advertising, because of the enormous volume employed, may be more accurately likened to the FLOW OF NIAGARA. In such cases, tremendous industrial works are performed over night.

As a rule, however, the mills of advertising grind slowly, but they grind thoroughly, and DOLLARS ARE THE GRIST.

Some advertising mediums refuse certain kinds of "one-time" business. "Once and out" isn't fair to the paper, to the advertiser or to advertising as an institution.

Through advertising the purchaser is brought LITTLE BY LITTLE to the buying point.

One cent invested at compound interest at the dawn of the Christian era would today amount to a sum so vast that to state it would stagger the imagination.

So the effect of judicious advertising: COMPOUNDING ACCUMULATES, PYRAMIDS—and it doesn't take thirteen hundred years to make good, either.

As one of America's best-known merchants says:

The first appearance of an ad may merely cause a ripple.

The second trip it is seen.

The third time we note the illustration.

The fourth time we read the catchline.

The fifth time the first paragraph is perused.

The sixth time we complete the reading.

The seventh time it sets us to thinking seriously.

The eighth time we are convinced.

The ninth time we desire.

The tenth time, having perhaps in the meantime felt a need for the article, WE BUY.

Advertising Finds Its Way into Unlooked-For Places.

The advertiser of a certain adjustable dress form was hunting in the woods of Maine last year. The quest of game led him into a tangled swamp. Here he found, not a moose, but, on the ground, half hidden among the yellowed leaves, a bit of paper. It proved to be a fragment of a copy of a well-known periodical, and it contained the announcement of a second paper at that time soliciting his patronage. The advertiser noted with interest that, although printed ten years before and exposed untried, it knew how long to the effects of the weather. It was in a state of perfect preservation. The finder forwarded the curiosity to the periodical seeking his business with a letter in which he said:

"I came upon this fragment while seeking game, and it has occurred to me that, in a way, an advertisement is like a hunted deer—once started, there is NO TELLING WHERE IT WILL GO."

He might have added with truth that, as it is the dearest hunter who bugs the game, so is the persistent advertiser who "BUGS HOME THE BACON."

It often happens that a business enterprise is outlined by its own advertising. To paraphrase Shakespeare, "The advertising that men do lives after them."

How often one recalls something one has seen advertised in the years gone by, wonders if it is still on the market, and, as for an old friend, bankers for a sight of one of the old familiar announcements!

Potential are the INVISIBLE ASSETS that are IGNORED, FORGOTTEN. The message of an ad stands into our minds and hearts before we know it, and another victory is scored for the gent of the printing press. So, ye who employ the myriad salesmen of publicity, fail not to entail the aid of GOOD, OLD FATHER TIME.

Want ads bring results.

COMMON SENSE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism has for ages been a puzzle to the doctors. Some claim it to be an infection, a germ disease. Others claim that the cause is uric acid, a kidney disease. It is said that uric acid is carried by the blood into the small apophyses of the joints and skin where it crystallizes and it is the small, sharp crystals that cause intense pain with every motion of the body by cutting into the flesh and nerves. Whatever the cause, the best relief known is an Alkaline Elixer of the Salicylates. The chemical nature of the Salicylates is to form soluble compounds with the urates. In this way these crystals are dissolved, taken up by the blood and taken out of the body by the kidneys.

This rheumatic elixer is taken in teaspoonful doses in hot water before meals. The cure is often in a day or two, yet the remedy should be taken for some time to thoroughly neutralize the blood and prevent a recurrence of the trouble. The eliminations, as the doctors would say, that is in the kidneys and the bowels, should be kept active. Rheumatic Elixer is compounded by Mr. Pionis, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, who would be pleased to give you any other information you wish. Sold at 50c. American Steel Fence Post

CHEAPER THAN WOOD AND MORE DURABLE

QUALITY—Made of suitable, high-class steel, heavily coated with zinc inside and outside.

STRENGTH—Line posts strong enough to hold up any wire fence and furnish all necessary resistance. End and corner posts so strong that they will hold any wire fence made, in fact you can pull the fence to pieces without destroying the posts.

ADAPTABILITY—Adapted to all conditions and will prove absolutely satisfactory wherever a good wire fence is desired no matter how heavy the wire or how hard the usage after the fence is erected.

SERVICE—The American Steel Fence Post will give much more and much better service than can be expected of wood posts because every American Post is just like every other American Post, and you get the benefit of every post in the fence from year to year, while the wood posts burn, rot and decay.

DURABILITY—American Steel Posts have been in service since 1898, in nine different states and the oldest posts are today as good as when set. They promise many, many years of future service.

TIME AND MONEY SAVED—By using the American Steel Fence Post much time and expense is saved in building the fence. On an average, if a man sets 40 wood line posts per day, he is doing well. Two men can easily put in from one to two miles of American Line Posts per day. It takes no longer to set American End and Corner Posts than to set wood posts for the same purpose and when the steel post is set it is a much better job than can be secured by using wood.

Good Printing Means Harmony of Color

Every person is not gifted with an artistic temperament which makes possible the arrangement of colors to make a harmonious effect; but most every one can tell instantly as to whether or not the color scheme is pleasing to the eye when the completed work is placed before them. A well arranged piece of printed matter is instantly recognized—it pleases the eye while a garish piece of work, a conglomeration of hit or miss color and type display is antagonistic, perhaps you cannot pick the flaw or tell why it doesn't please you—but the effect does not please you.

Good Printing is No More Expensive Than the Other Kind

There are several reasons for the present high standing in the printing world of the Printing Department of the Gazette.

- 1st.—High class workmen, those who know and who have the artistic ideas.
- 2nd.—New type and printing materials, up-to-date type faces, borders, Etc.
- 3rd.—Splendid press facilities, 3 platen presses, one Universal embossing press, 2 four cylinder presses and an additional fast pony cylinder press.
- 4th.—Unexcelled machine composition, facilities which includes 4 modern linotypes.
- 5th.—A Gilbert Harris metallic overlay process which insures perfect half-tone printing.
- 6th.—An organization which is capable of producing the very best in printing in all branches.

The manufacturers of Janesville are generally noted for the high class up-to-date literature sent out by them. They spare no expense in illustrations or quality and the Printing Department of the Gazette has been favored with the major portion of this printing. The beautiful color and half tone work of the Parker Pen Co., Hough Shade Corporation, Caloric Co., Lewis Knitting Co., Strickler Hay Tool Co., Badger State Machine Co., Rock River Machine Co., Janesville Machine Co., Franklin Taylor Co., Wisconsin Carriage Co., Janesville Carriage Works, Janesville Barb Wire Co., and many others have been remarked upon hundreds of times. Lawyer's briefs and large book work as well as the smaller booklets, folders, letter heads, envelopes, all are handled and receive the amount of careful attention they require. The bindery of W. E. Clinton & Co., who take care of all that portion of the work for this department, has recently installed at considerable expense, a large Dexter folding machine which means much to the quick preparation of long press runs for the final stitching and covering. It will do the work of several people much better and has a big capacity.

Estimates on printed matter of every description will be given and correspondence is solicited.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES.

THE MOON.

By Howard L. Rann.

The moon is a large pink object which is used to inspire love and extract odes, sonnets and blank verse from the amateur poet. Some very choice copyrighted poetry has been written about the moon, most of which is read aloud in a carousal tone of voice.

Just prior to securing fatherly consent, some time ago the moon got into the habit of going around the earth on a dog trot several times a year, making all of the important cities from Hong Kong to Cairo, Illinois, occasionally sitting down to rest and throwing the light observatory into a pale blue fit. If the moon should overcast some morning, this world would bump into the millionth dawn without having time to put on a clean collar. The best time to view the moon is at the age of 13 from the upper deck of a rustic bridge, in company with some sympathetic soul in a starched shirtwaist. The moon does most of its traveling in a well-greased runway called an orbit, and revolves on an axis which is of the full-floating type, with three quarter elliptical springs. It is also afflicted with mean intervals, some of which are meaner than others and are accompanied by wash-outs and cloudbursts. The moon can be had in several different sizes, but appears at its best when full, thus differing from most men of our acquaintance. Astronomy teaches us that when the moon gets full it never has to be addressed and put to bed. The moon is not inhibited by anybody of any consequence except comets, gas and the prehistoric goat, which can be seen through a pinch telescope in the act of arriving to death. In ancient times one of these goats leaped over a little too far and fell off just as the moon was passing over Ireland, thereby making a valuable contribution to our fauna and flora. The moon is used a good deal for sleighing parties and lawn socials, and usually furnishes all the light that is necessary.

Poor Sustenance.
Hope moon grows gaunt when it is fed on nothing but promises.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, April 3, 1872.—London—The number of emigrants who left the British Isles, during March, exceeded that of February by several thousand.

The new Methodist church edifice at Beaver Dam was dedicated on Tuesday the 26th. The spacious audience room was filled at an early hour, while very many failed to gain admittance. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Miller of Milwaukee.

The entire republican ticket for city officers was elected yesterday. Democrats are beaten in every ward in race for election and Sutherland is now mayor by 216 majority.

The St. George society held their annual meeting for the election of officers last evening at their hall with the following result:

C. L. Martin, president; G. K. Collins, 1st vice-president; S. Hutchinson, 2nd vice-president; H. Rogers, treasurer; and J. H. Phillips, secretary.

Mayor-elect Sutherland was besieged last night by a crowd of enthusiastic boys who would be appeased only by a barrel of apples.

The election held last evening came near consuming Mosely's bulletin board on the west side.

A case of cerebro spinal meningitis was cured in the fourth ward last week by copious bleeding.

Several foreigners from Watertown attempted to vote in the democratic ticket in this city yesterday but were headed off.

The prune is good to eat; the prune is plump and sweet; yet when we say the prune dish high, a chill attacks our feet. The prune, the prune does agree, is wholesome as can be; improves the blood of rich red blood in vein and artery. The grocers of the prune consider it a boon, the finest thing, they say, by long, that ever graced a spoon. The grocer strikes a pose and says: "Such prunes as those will heal your head and raise the dead and cure ingrowing toes." Wherever we may stray we hear the wise men say: "The prune is great—go, buy a crate, and eat the same today." And yet, I know not why, the common people shy and shudder with fear and shed a tear when prunes are their destiny. They rush away pell-mell with nondescript yell; when asked the cause they say: "It was a case of Dr. Felt!" And this brings to our view what prejudice will do; where it doth lodge it makes men dodge the beautiful and true. The prune is plump and sweet, the prune is hard to beat; but you can snap my share, old chap—I'd rather chew a beet!

Expert Dry Cleaning For Which There is No Substitute.

It takes art, skill, knowledge, experience, proper equipment all combined in order to achieve

FAULTLESS DRY CLEANING

Send us your soiled suits, waists, dresses, plumes, gloves, curtains, laces, etc.

Our process renews the fabrics, brightens the colors, raises the nap and restores garments to the freshness of new clothing. You will find our service convenient and economical—we give all work received our careful and prompt personal attention.

The Greatest Clothes Saver For Men

If you pay $35 or more for your business suits, we can keep them looking as good as new the year around with our Faultless Dry Cleaning and perfect repair department.

Thus you save the difference between the cost of ONE suit plus a small dry cleaning charge and the cost of TWO or more extra suits.

This applies to $10 suits as well as the most expensive clothes made.

This wonderful saving may be accomplished without the slightest sacrifice in your personal appearance at any time as a matter of fact, it will mark you as a man who is always well groomed and particularly neat looking.

Clothes Economy For Women

See that you secure good material in any wearing apparel you purchase, then have your suits, gowns, skirts, coats, waists, etc.,

Faultlessly Dry Cleaned

by our experts. We'll keep them in repair, too, if you so order. You'll double their life and keep yourself looking "fit" twice as long for one-tenth the cost. Try it out thoroughly just once and see.

Out of Town Residents Will Appreciate Our Faultless Methods of Dry Cleaning.

OUT of town residents who become familiar with our service never fail to send us repeat orders. You won't tolerate a poor laundress. An incompetent dry cleaner is worse. Even though his intentions are good—equipment or knowledge may be lacking.

Our knowledge, equipment and experience is the best you secure—prices low. Send for price list, or better still, send a trial order.

Express paid one way on orders of $3 or over. Express paid both ways on orders of $5 or over.

We have agents in every city, town and village in Rock County.

Plumes--Cleaning, Curling, Dyeing

There is nothing you want done to a plume (within reason) that we can't accomplish. Few persons in the country are so well informed or experienced in this line as our experts. You know also that we are responsible. Valuable plumes can always be safely entrusted to our care.

DYEING HINTS FOR WOMEN

Practically all materials can be dyed black—garments without pleats, etc., dye well. Coats and jackets are most difficult for even experts to handle. On the other hand "crepe de chine" and like materials experts are most successful in dyeing, just about as you desire. We have every facility to procure best results in dyeing, but we must see the garment before we can tell you what can be done with it. Positive knowledge of chemical action of dye on certain materials we know—the condition of the garment tells another story. Never experiment—bring the garment to us first. We are coloring black every 48 hours now.

Clean Draperies Often.

Even the most careful of housekeepers is liable to overlook the draperies. Their luster is most important—send them to us tomorrow for Faultless Dry Cleaning.

Did you ever stop to think that draperies get almost as much wear as rugs—yet are not taken care of half so often? You'll double their life, looks and value to you by sending them often to us.

Lace Curtains—Laces.

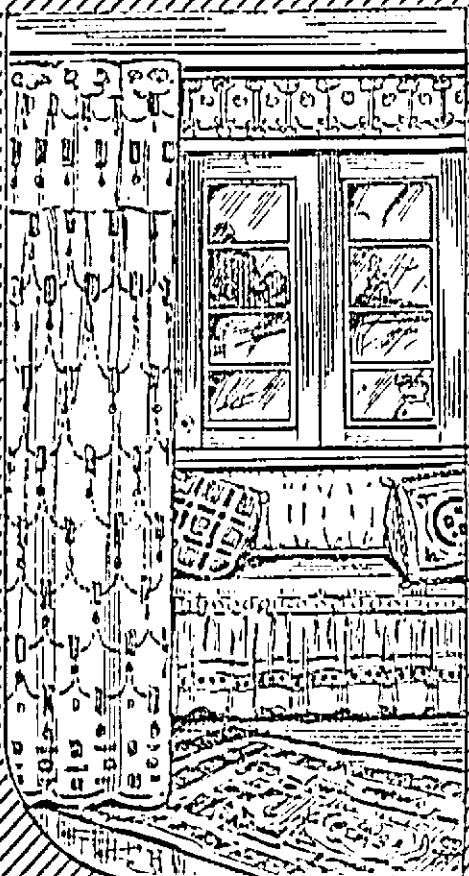

If there is such a thing as art in dry cleaning it is certainly required in cleaning lace—it is our particular specialty. From the finest of valuable laces, down to ordinary laces you'll find our service better than you ever expected and prices lower.

Faultless Cleaning of Oriental and Domestic Rugs

Our service in rug cleaning embraces a combination of compressed air and vacuum that is wonderful in effectiveness and eliminates cleaning wear.

Rugs which show grease spots or other stains we "scour" if you so order, by a secret process—we particularly recommend it for dining room rugs.

Oriental are treated in such a manner as not to brighten them—yet remove soil and dust.
